FINE CARD ON THE HILLTOP.

Vocalito, Laveller and Blanche
Win the Opening Events.

Guttenburg Race Track, April 7.—Hacing was continued at Guttenburg today under very favorable conditions as to weather and track.

The card was an excellent one and promised exciting sport. The attendance was fully up to the average.

The most interesting place of track news today was the split between Jockey George Taylor and Trainer Jimmy Shields. The two have been friends for many years, but certain incidents of recent happening have caused a disagreement.

Taylor owned a share in Alma T. and Brooklyn, both of which horses have been running in Shields's name and colors, and he disposed of his interest to Shields. Neither cared to talk about the split, but it is supposed that the trouble must have been serious.

The opening event to-day was for three-year-olds that had run and not won in 1902. Lady Kithian, who was formerly the Belle of Kithian City, was a red-hot favorite. Vocalito opened a strong second choice, but recorded several points in the betting.

"Vocalito" was the only one in the race, she won in a cauter. The favorite was second and Klugebelle third.

The second race went to Laveller, an odds on favorite. Some people got even money and were roundly when Queen of Trumps was scratched and all bets were declared off. The Queen pulled up lame in her preliminary.

The place was won by seven and Bolivar was third.

The third race resulted in an upset. Ballarat was heavily backed all over the ring, but was never better than a long shot at any stage of the journey. He was badly ridden.

Blanche led all the way and won handily. Bob Arthur was second, and the boy on Bob Arthur, claimed off against Blanche after the third round was up, and, of course, it was not allowed.

SMALL-POX OUTBREAK

Many New Cases Reported to the Health Office To-Day.

One Man Sick with It Walked into Dr. Edson's Office.

He Was Sent to a Hospital and All Hands Were Vaccinated.

There was a panic in the office of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases this afternoon. It was caused by a man, whose face was covered with eruptions, walking in and announcing to the clerks that he was sick with small-pox and desired to be sent to a hospital.

Three cases of small-pox had just been reported to the Bureau from 1875 second avenue, and there were half a dozen newspaper reporters taking down the names of the persons ill with the disease at that address when the man walked in.

The sick man described himself as John McBride, a laborer, fifty-five years old, and said he had contracted the disease at 20 Bowery, a cheap lodging-house at which he had been stopping.

McBride was hustled downstairs, hurriedly put into an ambulance and taken to the Reception Hospital, at the foot of East Sixteenth street.

Dr. Roberts, who is in charge of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases during the absence of Dr. Cyrus Edson on his wedding tour, then ordered the office door to be locked and admittance refused to all comers until the place had been fumigated.

In the meantime he ordered that the clerks and reporters be vaccinated, and personally supervised that job. The reporters and clerks were pretty badly scared and submitted without a murmur.

Inspectors were sent to 20 Bowery to quarantine the lodging-house and its inmates.

That place and the house at 1234 Fulton street, near One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street, and 13 Bayard street, from which other cases of the disease were reported, will be fumigated to-night.

The persons reported sick with small-pox from 1875 second avenue are Valentine Miller, his wife Catherine, and Albert Moosell, who board near One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street.

Jacob Cobb, seven months old, was found suffering from small-pox at 13 Bayard street, and a man named Gieseler at the house on Fulton avenue. All five were taken to the Reception Hospital.

The health authorities fear that a general outbreak of small-pox may result from these sporadic cases.

SUMMING UP IN BONNER'S SUIT.
Hammerstein Will Soon Learn Whether He Labeled the Chief.

The evidence was closed yesterday in the suit brought by Chief Hugh Bonner, of the Fire Department, before Judge Beach, in the Supreme Court, against Oscar Hammerstein, the Harlem theatrical proprietor, to recover $50,000 damages.

BY A MAJORITY VOTE.

Rhode Island Republicans Elect Their Governor.

Mr. Aldrich's Return to the United States Senate Assured.

Twenty Thousand More Votes Cast Than Ever Before in the State.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 7.—Complete returns from all parts of the State show a total vote on the State ticket of 84,740, an increase of 10,000 over the largest vote ever polled before.

The two parties raked every city and town almost bare of voters and got out an unexpectedly and unprecedentedly full vote both in actual numbers and in proportion to the possible vote.

The finished returns show a great Republican victory.

On the State ticket (Rep.) for Governor, polled 47,460; Wardwell (Dem.) 25,410; Gilbert (Pro.), 1,500; Burton, People's candidate, 100; and there were 75 scattering votes.

These figures show a plurality of 2,047 for Brown, and majority of 18.

Bull and Utter, Republican candidates for Lieutenant-Governor and Secretary of State, are also elected by small majorities, but there is no election for Attorney-General and General Treasurer.

The legislative returns show a good Republican majority in both branches already, with between fifteen and twenty vacancies yet to be filled.

In the Senate the Republicans have thus far elected 23 out of 32 members; and in the House 30 out of 55 members. This gives them of 50 joint ballot, a sure majority in the whole number to be chosen, and there are yet to be filled four vacancies in the Senate and seven in the House.

Most of these failures to elect are in Providence and Newport. In the former city only three of thirteen members of the Legislature were chosen, and in Newport only one of six.

The control of the Legislature by the Republicans gives them the choice of their candidates for Attorney-General and General Treasurer, and secures beyond a doubt the re-election of Nelson W. Aldrich to the United States Senate.

Mayor Carroll was defeated for Representative in Pawtucket, and Mayor Honey failed of an election for a similar position in Newport, but has another chance on the second election on Tuesday.

The Democrats are feeling very jubilant, as they feel secured everything to be desired, or the assurance of everything desired, all their State officers, and the United States Senator.

The Democrats have nothing to hope for from the second elections except local influence and endorsement, as the postponed trials cannot affect the result in any important respect.

MRS. ADAMS CAN STAY

The Jury Fails to Agree in the Dispossession Proceedings.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's Allegations Were Flatly Contradicted.

The Clergyman Has Left Town to Recapitulate from His Labors.

Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church and President of the Society for the Suppression of Crime, was not present this morning at the continuation of Peter A. H. Jackson & Sons' suit in the sixth Judicial District Court to dispossess Mrs. Hatfield Adams from the premises at 31 and 33 East Twenty-seventh street, on the ground that she keeps there a disorderly house.

The Reverend Doctor left town last evening for a short vacation, which, he says, has been necessitated by the severe strain which he has undergone for the past few weeks.

The Doctor's self-imposed task of purifying this city has been a trying one, and in addition to the unpleasant task of purifying this city has been a trying one, and in addition to the unpleasant task of purifying this city has been a trying one.

Such threats have reached him in the form of anonymous letters, a large number of which the Doctor admits having received, although he declines to divulge their contents.

Another thing that has annoyed the clergyman is criticism on the testimony he was obliged to give yesterday as to the scenes he witnessed at Mrs. Adams' house, on his famous midnight visit in company with Detective Gardner and John Krivine, "one of the members of his congregation and a volunteer worker in the cause of moral reform."

Dr. Parkhurst passed through the ordeal bravely and answered all of Mrs. Adams' lawyer's embarrassing questions without flinching. He contradicted Mr. Krivine's account of the orgies witnessed, which the Doctor, in a Pickwickian sense, characterized as a "circus."

The Doctor declared that he did not participate in the "circus" as did Detective Gardner and Mr. Krivine, but he admitted that he witnessed the antics and drank beer.

The feelings of many of Dr. Parkhurst's parishioners, it is reported, have been terribly shocked by their pastor's revelations, and it is said that the Doctor's efforts as a suppressor of crime will meet with utter opposition in his neighborhood.

A JURY'S VERDICT.
Juror Kretschmar, before the opening of this morning's proceedings, protested against the publication of his name as a juror, and he declined emphatically that he was an infidel, and declared that he was a Presbyterian by belief, although it is distinctly understood that he was not a member of Dr. Parkhurst's church and did not personally know him.

Lawyer William Grossman opened the case for Mrs. Adams at 10 o'clock by a stirring appeal to the jury not to find a verdict against his client, because it would aid a jury in the general sessions court next week in the trial of the alleged disorderly house.

He argued that the alleged disorderly house was a mere saloon-keeper at 27 East Twenty-seventh street, and that Mrs. Adams was a respectable woman, who was a member of the church and had no connection with the alleged disorderly house.

He made the startling allegation that Detective Gardner and Mr. Krivine, who were with him at the alleged disorderly house, were in a conspiracy to oust Mrs. Adams from her home.

He declared that the jury should find a verdict in favor of Mrs. Adams, and that the alleged disorderly house was a mere saloon-keeper at 27 East Twenty-seventh street, and that Mrs. Adams was a respectable woman, who was a member of the church and had no connection with the alleged disorderly house.

A NEW PENSION SENSATION.
Congressman's Secretaries Accused of Selling Information.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—A sensation was sprung unexpectedly in the House investigation this morning when Mr. Eliot asked if the secretaries of Congress ever sold information of the status of claims to pension attorneys.

Mr. Eliot produced papers and read letters in which the charge was made that Samuel H. Hervey had, through Hagan & Co., of Kenton, O., and H. C. Peet, of Columbus, Ind., carried on quite a business of this sort, charging $5 to each claimant for status.

It was then shown that Hervey had called up three cases on Congressional slips signed by Representative Cooper of Indiana, one of the prosecutors in the case.

Hervey also worked for Mr. Brookshire, of Indiana, and Mr. Cantz, of Ohio, but it was not shown that Hervey's connection with them had been the same as with Cooper, the investigation directed by the Commissioner having related solely to Mr. Cooper.

Tips and Miscues of Owners on Their Own Race-Horses.

THE GOOD COLT WHITEHEAD.

Again Declared That Monmouth Park Will Surely Reopen.

One often hears a race-goer exclaim: "I got this tip straight from the owner. Who should be better informed than he?" As a matter of fact, owners know very little of the capabilities of their own horses, and the truth of this was never better illustrated than in the second and third races at Guttenburg yesterday. The third race was for maiden two-year-olds, having for starters among others, the colt Whitehead, owned by G. W. Poole, and the filly Klugebelle, owned by Eugene Leigh. Mr. Poole thought his colt had a good chance but he heard how Klugebelle was working in her trials. Then he went back on his judgment and requested the judges to allow him to withdraw.

The judges refused, and Mr. Poole went into the ring and bet $500 on Klugebelle, telling his friends to do the same. Eugene Leigh thought he would beat Whitehead sure, so he bet heavily on the filly. The race was run, and in a hard-fought finish Klugebelle won by a neck. The winner was put up at auction and sold for $800—over his entered selling price, his owner purchased him. Mr. Poole, after winning the race, found that he was out $300 he had bet on Klugebelle and $500 which he had to pay to retain the colt. Against this stood the sum of $250, showing a net loss of $550. Had Mr. Poole bet on Klugebelle in the second race, he would have won $300 on his own horse he would have had a handsome winner, for Whitehead was at odds of 7 to 1.

The other instance mentioned was in the second race, in which Bob Arthur, owned by T. Elliott, and Stratagon, owned by the Guttenburg Jockey Club, were the starters. The latter horse bore the name of the club, and he did not believe they had a chance with Klugebelle. The owner, T. Elliott, told him to sell him for $500. Elliott said he thought he would win with Bob Arthur, and the owner of Stratagon, who was the owner of Klugebelle, found themselves in the same predicament as did Mr. Poole.

The colt Whitehead, by the way, is named after the guttenburg jockey club, who were the owners and trainers at Guttenburg yesterday. The colt was named after the club, and he did not believe they had a chance with Klugebelle. The owner, T. Elliott, told him to sell him for $500. Elliott said he thought he would win with Bob Arthur, and the owner of Stratagon, who was the owner of Klugebelle, found themselves in the same predicament as did Mr. Poole.

Gleason & Co. of Park avenue, who are the trainers of the colt, will race over this evening, but Longstreet has been heavily backed during the past week to win the Brooklyn race, and the odds are 1 to 1. Longstreet, winner of last year's suburban, Interglacial, Judge Morrow and his presences have also been in the suburban almost the entire year has been entered on Montauk and Triana, both of whom have been heavily backed.

In regard to Monmouth's reopening, Manager T. M. Craft is quoted as follows: "You can decide for yourself. There will be racing at Monmouth Park this summer. Racing will most certainly begin over the course. Little more can be said at this time. Every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday during the regular season, a fairly good race money talks. Racegoers people believe in backing their knowledge.
